New Haircare Secrets With Tropical Beauty

Paul Brown Hawaii incorporates the Kukui Nut into unique product blends

Paul Brown Hawaii is nuts over Kukui. A secret known to ancient Hawaiians, Kukui Nut Oil was first brought to Hawaii by early Polynesian settlers to help relieve many different skin conditions. It provided moisture and nourishment to dry, mature, and damaged skin. This special nut plant quickly adapted and is now Hawaii's official state tree. Only recently has the magic of the Kukui Nut become known and infused into professional product beauty product blends. The hair experts at Paul Brown Hawaii have discovered just how beneficial the Kukui Nut is by incorporating the tropical ingredient into their unique Kukui Sport Washe and Kukui Hot Oil Haircare Products.

Paul Brown notes, "Kukui Nut essential oils contain substantial amounts of linoleic and linolenic fatty acids. The percentage of these two fatty acids that renew moisture, strength and radiance in the hair and skin, is higher in Kukui Nut extract than in other extracts used in popular haircare and skincare products today. We have incorporated this nut into a few of our product blends and the results have been amazing! We encourage incorporating the Kukui Nut into your beauty regimen."

The Paul Brown Hawaii Kukui Sport Washe was formulated to work as both a professional salon shampoo and body wash. A versatile crossover product, the Kukui Sport Washe is a great alternative for active people who have normal or fine and thinning hair. Forget about having to tote shampoo and body wash to and from the gym locker room. This multi-purpose product is hassle free and beneficial to your hair and skin. The oils of the Kukui Nut have been added to help maintain the precious moisture balance that helps create radiant, healthy hair. The proteins within the unsaturated natural oils of the Kukui Nut extend the life of haircolor and help protect your hair from the natural oxidization caused from the sun's powerful UV-rays.

The Paul Brown Hawaii Kukui Nut Hot Oil is a special conditioning treatment that helps to replace moisture in your hair with the unique blend of Kukui Nut Lipids. Paul Brown Hawaii is known for diversifying products for all people, in all cultures. The Kukui Nut Hot Oil is considered one of the best moisture replacement products on the market for all hair types. The Kukui Nut Hot Oil helps replenish luster and elasticity to dry and damaged hair. For hair that is haircolor treated, the linoleic and linolenic fatty acids found in the Kukui Nut will help bring the hair back to life by hydrating and without lifting the haircolor. This lightweight, non-greasy formula contains natural nut proteins that penetrate into the hair cuticle and help prevent scalp and hair dryness. For best results, apply the Kukui Nut Hot Oil directly onto the hair, cover with a processing cap and place under a preheated dryer for 15 minutes. Rinse the hair thoroughly and reveal a rejuvenated, hydrated and healthy head of hair and scalp.

The main focus of Paul Brown Hawaii remains to always provide haircare solutions for all types of hair, in all cultures. Paul Brown Hawaii products and services are offered worldwide while being sold exclusively in professional salons and spas. The Paul Brown products are supported with continuing education and research to meet the demands of the culturally diverse professional beauty industry.
